New Luxury Inn near Chappell Hill Offers Perfect Weekend Get-away

RELEASE DATE: 06/27/2005 - The Inn at Dos Brisas, located one hour northwest of Houston near picturesque Chappell Hill, is the perfect place to stay for a summer weekend getaway or a historical Texas- inspired vacation. The Inn's sophisticated ambiance is surpassed only by the manner of service that is distinguished by the gentle good nature, quiet pride, gracious hospitality, and genuine personal concern.

Opened in October 2004, the Inn at Dos Brisas, positioned to be cast in the same circle as other famous properties including The Inn at Little Washington, The Point in New York and The Wilcox in South Carolina, offers a culinary experience for discriminating tastes and luxury casitas for the perfect weekend retreat.

The Inn's weekend packages include a stay in one of the lavishly appointed rooms, turndown services, and indoor and outdoor activities. Each casita has its own private patio where guests can enjoy the serenity of a country morning while viewing the explosion of color provided by the variety of Texas wildflowers. A personalized, gourmet lunch will be provided that can be enjoyed by the Infinity pool or during a break from horseback riding along the Inn's miles of trails.

Guests have the option of staying on grounds or journeying to the many historical nearby towns where area events are bountiful. Just down the road, about 45 miles from the Inn, sits the small town of Round Top, better known for its fabulous antique shops, which comes to life with the International Festival-Institute, one of the world's best summer arts festivals according to The Economist. The festival runs from June 5-July 17, and features eight full orchestra concerts, chamber music and solo events. Round Top is also home to Festival Hill, year-round performing arts and conference center presenting concerts and forums as well as Shakespeare at Winedale and the Winedale historical center.

About 20 miles away from the inn sits Brenham. Local attractions include Blue Bell Creameries, the Brenham Heritage Museum and the Texas Baseball Hall of Fame Museum.
