

Jonathan Cartwright

General Manager
Inn at Dos Brisas

Jonathan Cartwright serves as General Manager and Innkeeper at The Inn at Dos Brisas. Previously, he served as the long-time General Manager and Executive Chef at the acclaimed White Barn Inn in Kennebunkport, Maine, where he oversaw all food and beverage operations of the restaurant, including daily menu planning, food purchasing and supervision of a 25-person kitchen staff. In addition to his responsibilities at the White Barn Inn, Cartwright also served as Chief Operating Officer of US Hotels New England, part of the family-owned business that owns the White Barn Inn and a collection of six further hospitality properties in New England, the most recent acquisition being the Windham Hill Inn in West Townshend, Vermont.

Originally from Yorkshire, England, Chef Cartwright has been at home in the kitchen since age 15 and brings to Texas an international sensibility and mastery of cuisine gained while serving some of the world's finest Relais & Chateaux properties, including Blantyre in Lenox, Massachusetts, the Horned Dorset Primavera in Puerto Rico, and the Hotel Bareiss in the Black Forest region of Germany. After his training apprenticeships, he continued to study under Anton Edelmann, Maitre Chef de Cuisine at The Savoy Hotel, London. In 1989 while still at the Savoy, he accompanied Edelmann to New York's Pierre Hotel and to the Four Seasons, Beverly Hills to help with celebrations honoring the Savoy Hotel's 100th anniversary.

Cartwright joined White Barn Inn Restaurant in 1995 as a Sous Chef and became Executive Chef in 1996. His talents were quickly recognized, and in the spring of 1999 Cartwright was invited to cook at the James Beard House in New York City, an honor accorded only to the country's greatest chefs. The White Barn Inn Restaurant has had its share of honors, too, receiving hospitality's highest accolade, a 5-Star rating from Mobil Travel Guide, consecutively from 2006-2009, and AAA's Five Diamond Award consecutively since 1992 — a record in New England.

Cartwright is an avid cyclist, having competed in a multitude of road races throughout the U.S. and Europe. He can frequently be found cycling the roads of Washington County, Texas. During the Dos Brisas summer closures, Jonathan is off to his well-received casual restaurant Musette, in Kennebunkport, Maine, where he joins his two daughters in its administration.

